

Sign language interpreter

What is sign language?

What does an interpreter do?

- The language of the hearing and/or speech impaired
- Sign language is different in every language.
- Uses body language, manual communication
- Receives a message in one language and relays it as accurately as possible just as any interpreter.

Types of sign languages

- Deaf sign languages
- Auxiliary sign languages
- Signed modes of spoken languages

Where can interpreters work?

- TV stations
- Public institutions
- Education
- Freelancers: occasional jobs,
e.g.: police interrogation, wedding, business meetings, etc.
- Same salary as other interpreters in Hungary

appr. £ 42,420/year – in the UK

Training/Studies 1

Hungary

- Basic level: 60-90 hours course , 1,000 signs
- Level B2: after 1,000 more hours you qualify as a professional
- Have to have a high school matura exam

Training/Studies 2 Britain

- Bachelor's degree needed

Some basic signs

Thank You

for you attention